Dear Dr. _____,

MpBC Global Alliance, Inc. is a non-profit global organization run by a community of women diagnosed or supporting someone with metaplastic breast cancer. MpBC is considered a rare and complicated disease. While most of us are triple negative, treating us with TNBC protocols is considered ineffective and chances of metastatic disease are very high.

This Global Alliance is focusing on better collaboration between noted oncology researchers and the patients that desperately need direction towards more effective targeted treatments.

Your name was brought to our attention because of a patient that you have treated or a research publication that you were cited in. If you are committed to supporting our grassroots effort in advancing research and treatments for this rare disease please sign below. This will allow us to document your contact information under our knowledgeable doctors section of our website that will be released shortly, mpbcalliance.org. In return, you will be helping foster a partnership between other researchers and oncologists and us patients.

Please contact us if you have any questions or advice to offer us.

Sincerely,

The MpBC Board of Trustees
